The original release of AutoCAD met the needs of architects, engineers, draftsmen, and interior designers who primarily used 2D drafting tools to design 2D architectural drawings of objects such as buildings, floors, furniture, etc. At that time, there was no other CAD program available that provided such capabilities. In contrast to the desktop PC-based system that first came out, the first mobile computer app for AutoCAD was released in 1984. Called AutoCAD on a Handheld, this is the first of the numerous AutoCAD mobile apps that are currently available. The iPhone and Android-based AutoCAD mobile apps first came out in 2013. Today, the industry has many other programs that are available for use on mobile devices. Recto, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, requested that the administrator of U.S. Pacific Command provide details of the progress in the case of Scott Matthew Taitano, a former Public Works employee who is currently being held in the custody of the U.S. military at Camp Bayshore, Guam. The congressman requested information on the status of the investigation of Taitano's involvement in the scams, including the participation of citizens and relatives of Guam and U.S. citizen citizens, over the past few years. "Since the early days of my first term as Congressman, the citizens of Guam have constantly expressed concerns over the escalating trend of crime perpetrated by foreign nationals against our citizens and residents," said Rep. Recto in a statement. "The multiple scams that have recently been reported, including the internet scammers of US military retirees on Guam and our own U.S. citizens, have caused alarm. "As the chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, I have personally lobbied the Administration to act swiftly and diligently to address the problems, including the detention of the suspect," he continued. Recto also requested the administrator of the Pacific Command's Office of Legislative Affairs provide the total number of illegal aliens apprehended since January 2015 in the Pacific Command Area of Responsibility (AOR) to the Guam Legislative Office. "It is vital that the Guam Homeland Security and public safety sectors keep the citizens of Guam and the Islands secure and provide for their safety," said Rep. Recto. "I continue to closely monitor the efforts of Guam's Office of Homeland Security and encourage the President and the Department of Homeland Security to act swiftly and decisively to address this increasing problem."
