Tool to use to open or close CD/CD-RW drives in one click. it. Not every player wants to be a point guard. "The second goal for me is to learn how to win games. Sometimes I was really nervous to play the point, because I have never won a championship. Now, I feel much more confident, I have another point guard on the floor, and we try to play a lot of minutes. I am learning a lot, watching them [Saunders and Gerald Henderson], and I am feeling better and more confident." Rebounding: Derrick was 7-for-7 against Miami from the floor, but he missed two opportunities. He was 2-for-3 on the offensive glass, second among players with at least 100 attempts. "I think I did really good. I just didn't get then. I felt I had a good game, but I know if I had made that shot from the tip, we could have won the game. So, I wasn't confident," Derrick said. Defending: The Heat's renewed, three-point shooting will be a challenge for Derrick. Miami's James and Bosh were 5-for-6 against him from behind the arc. Goran Dragic, who was held to three points and was 1-for-6 on threes, will look to get that going. Derrick was 5-for-5 against Miami's Dragic from behind the arc. INJURY UPDATES Armon-Drisell: The Heat's depth was tested on Thursday, when Armon-Drisell suffered a sprained left ankle and missed the game against the Heat. Miami recalled Gary Neal and Rafer Alston, who started at small forward for the Heat on Thursday. However, Alston, due to severe cramps, did not play Friday night. He was re-evaluated on Saturday morning, and did not play, so the team is hoping that he could be available Sunday. Korver: The Pacers missed Korver's ability to knock down the three-point shot, but all the rest of his shooting was on point against Indiana. He made 8-of-9 shots from the floor and 5-of-7 from the arc.1.
