KEYMACRO is a macro recorder that uses the Windows clipboard to copy any text that is pasted onto it. An automatic output path is then created in the macro list. The automatic path output paths can be combined. Macro output paths can be redirected to multiple documents and a separate macro recorder is created for each output path. Macro names can be used as shortcuts. The Macro record can be started and stopped by using keystrokes, menus and dialog boxes. The macro recorder can be split into different task screens to help you to easily record and manage all of your macros. You can hide all the windows and start with only a blank screen. Multiple macros can be recorded and edited at the same time. Macros can be saved as presets. You can also easily create and edit templates and name your macros according to their names. KEYPAIR Description: KEYPAIR is a program that allows you to create a list of Windows hotkeys to use for frequently used tasks. This is really handy for those of us that like to use the keyboard as much as possible, as it saves time getting used to using menus. KEYGURU Description: KEYGURU is a program that allows you to create and store shortcuts to certain files and folders. You can do this quickly and easily by dragging and dropping icons onto the program Id6a3396d6
