Bring the pulp sword and planet adventure to life on Legendary Planet with a fully customizable universe and adventure path for classic characters. The fantastic world of Argosa is populated by a hundred new races and a gazetteer full of exciting new locations and adventures. Explore a new galaxy of pulp adventure as you search for allies, run for your life, and fight for your survival on the planet Atua. Are you ready to go on a long journey of adventure, danger, and fun? The year is 1195 and the world has changed forever. The characters in this adventure are not classed according to their actual classes in D&D, but instead are presented with the alternate stats for the Dungeons & Dragons 5E Monster Manual, as well as alternate modifiers for multiclassing. Players who have ever wondered what it would be like to create their own universe of fun and adventure may take their imagination to Legendary Planet in Fantasy Grounds, where they will be able to test their creative skills in full-3d virtual space. They may even discover they have a knack for storytelling! Whatever fantasy roleplaying is to you, Fantasy Grounds can help you bring it to life. The year is 2019. A year after the Apollo programme, we have discovered that the mission's astronauts, Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin, were returning to Earth alive. Returning to Earth was no mean feat. The Apollo landers had to avoid colliding with the many meteorites and debris that rain down on the lunar surface. The Apollo landers had no propulsion system or airbags for cushioning the crash on the lunar surface. Instead, they were guided by the flight computer on a path calculated to ensure their survival. The Saturn V rocket used in the Apollo missions was larger than a Saturn V rocket, but a fraction of its mass compared with the spacecraft, and it has landed safely on the lunar surface so many times that it has become routine. In this new edition of the Lunar Lander, you are one of the mission controllers as you drive the Lunar Roving Vehicle used during the Apollo missions. The LRO exploration vehicle looks exactly as it was in 1969. The mission controllers are able to turn the vehicle in any direction and then fully brake it to a halt. You will experience the unique characteristics of the vehicle in low gravity environment. You will explore a 36 km² map inspired by real geographical features of the moon. You will discover new lunar landscape and landing sites. In this new edition, you can also experience Armstrong's famous Moonwalk!
