However, the arguments are in lists, and my system is console based. The output is: (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8) How can I format this so that it is more readable? I'd like to print: (1: 2: 3: 4: 5: 6: 7: 8) however, when I do this: for index, x in enumerate(my_list): print x sys.stdout.write('{}:{}'.format(index+1, x)) this is the output I get: (1) 2:3 4:5 6:7 8 A: Try this (replacing print x with print '{}:{}'.format(i + 1, x)) my_list = [1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8] for i, x in enumerate(my_list): print('{}:{}'.format(i + 1, x)) Output: 1: 1 2: 2 3: 3 4: 4 5: 5 6: 6 7: 7 8: 8 For the sake of completion, if you don't want to print a tab before each value, but rather want to print a comma between them you can use this: my_list = [1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8] for i, x in enumerate(my_list): print '{}: {}'.format(i d0c515b9f4
